

We invest in North Puget Sound's health.

Bringing our Mission to life

At Providence, we are dedicated to improving community health and reducing disparities in the Western U.S. and beyond. Called by our Mission, we are steadfast in serving all, especially those who are poor and vulnerable.

Taking action on health challenges

To achieve our vision of health for a better world, the Providence family of organizations identifies community health needs and invests in programs and meaningful solutions that meet the diverse needs of our neighbors. Alongside local partners, we build stronger, healthier communities by focusing on areas of lasting impact:

- Foundations of health
- Removing barriers to care
- Community resilience
- Innovating for the future

Our longstanding commitment to identify needs and provide community benefit is an essential way we live our Mission each day.

$2 MILLION
Community health improvement and strategic partnerships

$11 MILLION
Health professions education and research

$9.6 MILLION
Subsidized health services

$28 MILLION
Free and discounted care for the uninsured and underinsured

$105.6 MILLION
Unpaid cost of Medicaid and other means-tested government programs

* Data is consolidated based on unaudited financial reporting. Free and discounted care totals reflect at-cost amount.

Community investment in action

Medical residents serve community, build relationships through street medicine

Every week, new doctors with Providence Regional Medical Center Everett meet individuals experiencing homelessness where they are – at hygiene stations, pop-up clinics and on the street. They might bandage wounds, lance boils or teach clients to check their blood sugar.

This important work is done through the WSU Internal Medicine Residency Program – Everett and with nonprofit partner MercyWatch. But it's about more than medical care.

"It's mostly about being human with someone," said Riley Brazil, M.D., second-year medical resident. "It's quality time spent getting to know them, establishing rapport, so there's a familiar, welcoming face the next time they come to the clinic or emergency room."

During 2022, medical residents at Providence Everett logged more than 600 volunteer hours with MercyWatch, caring for the health and well-being of some of the most vulnerable citizens in Snohomish County.

Top photo: Riley Brazil, M.D., internal medicine resident at Providence Regional Medical Center Everett, serves clients experiencing homelessness at a hygiene center in Lynnwood, Washington.

Above: Riley Brazil, M.D., and a MercyWatch client discuss her health concerns at a hygiene center in Lynnwood, Washington.

“ Our internal medicine residents live the Providence Mission as they care for Snohomish County’s vulnerable citizens with compassion, dignity and excellence. We’re proud they represent Providence Regional Medical Center Everett through their service with MercyWatch. They are truly People of Providence. ”

— KRISTY CARRINGTON
Chief Executive
North Puget Sound

“ It’s mostly about being human with someone. It’s quality time spent getting to know them, establishing rapport, so there’s a familiar, welcoming face the next time they come to the clinic or emergency room. ”

— RILEY BRAZIL, M.D.
Medical Resident